About this table fifty or sixty persons were assembled, many in the outer rows, where there was occasionally a deposit of new-comers, being mere spectators, only that one of them, Daniel Deronda a woman, might now and then be observed putting down a five-franc with a simpering air, just to see what the passion of gambling really. Standing close to his chair was a handsome Italian, calm, statuesque, reaching across him to place the first pile of napoleons from a new bagful just brought him by Daniel Deronda envoy with a scrolled mustache.
